Amar Jawan Jyoti

Amar Jawan Jyoti memorial, or the Flame of the Immortal soldier was erected under the India Gate in Delhi in December 1971 to commemorate Indian soldiers killed in the defence of the country. It has served as India's Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Let's salute and remember our martyrs by making this paper based replica of the memorial.

You will need: Rangeela Tempera Colour, Fevicol MR, Fevicryl 3D Outliner - Glitter Gold 401, Brush, Pair of Scissors, Toothpick/Broomstick

- As per the image, paint the design template using Rangeela Tempera Colours
- Cut the box template and make it into a box and stick it using Fevicol MR
- Cut the 2 parts of the gun and stick it back to back using Fevicol MR. To make it stand erect, use a toothpick or a broomstick in between the 2 parts
- Cut a slit on the top part of the box for the gun to be slotted in
- Stick the "Amar Jawan" painted plate on the front side of the box to complete the memorial
- Outline the box and parts of the gun with Fevicryl 3D Outliner - Glitter Gold
